"You only need those if you get into trouble out on the open slopes."

"I think they look really cool," grinned Martha, "and it's better to be safe than sorry."

Anna laughed nastily. "I agree. You should drop out of the competition before you get hurt!"