Following the arrest of Dr X, we have made several changes at NICE.

- NICE is now the National Institute for the Conservation of Earth.
- Dani Day has been appointed to the position of Senior Scientist.
- The mission of NICE is to help protect the planet and the precious things in it.

In order to help NICE in its mission, Dani Day has employed a team of four agents. She assures me that they are highly capable. In order to protect the agents, their real identities must remain a secret. They have been given the name Team X. Their operation status is now code green.

I will keep you informed of any further changes.

Regards
