

5. VAMPIRES IN THE MEDIA

People like going to the cinema to be scared and there have been lots of films about scary vampires.

The black and white film Nosferatu was made in 1922.

Count Orlok in the film was one of the scariest vampires ever. He was also the first vampire to be killed by sunlight.

The film Count Dracula was first shown in 1931. Dracula wore a cloak and had fangs for teeth.

These old films do not seem very scary to us now but at the time people thought they were very scary.

WOW!
facts

When Count Dracula was first shown some people were so scared they fainted!
