

They went inside and Wolfgang locked the door.
Nadim played the minuet by Bach.
“That’s better,” said Wolfgang. “Now keep playing with your left hand. I’ll add a few ... twiddly bits ...
to the tune.”

“It’s amazing,” laughed Wolfgang. “I don’t have to strike the keys as hard as I do on the harpsichord. This instrument is brilliant.”
“You play it brilliantly, too,” said Nadim.
At that moment, there was loud knocking on the door.

Sample pages taken from Meeting Mozart
Book Band Level Purple

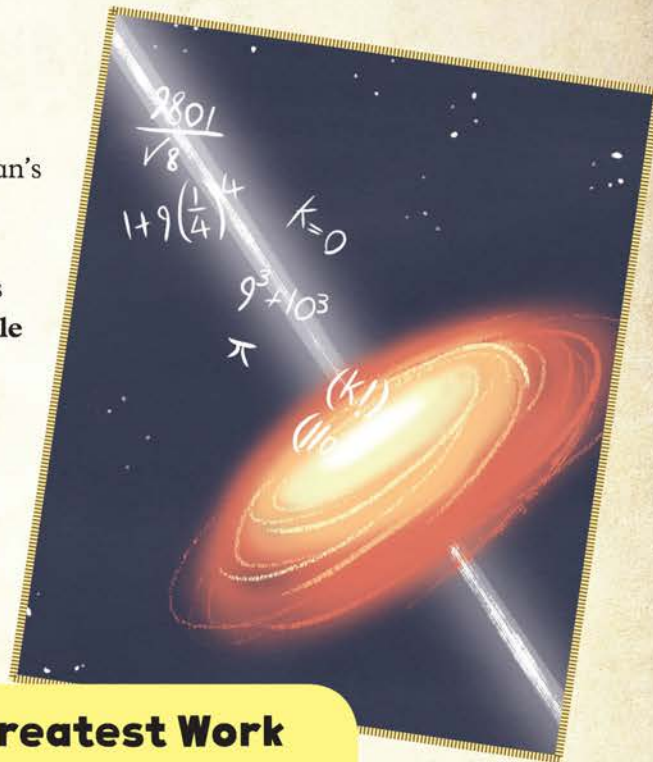

Genius!

Today, Ramanujan's maths is helping scientists to work out what happens inside a black hole – mind-boggling!

Greatest Work

Websites use number patterns which Ramanujan worked out.

Being a Genius Is Simple!

You've met three geniuses, so now you know their simple secrets:

- they all had extraordinary ability;
- they all loved their work;
- they all worked really hard, and never stopped.

Simple!