

There was a rumble from behind.

The children turned to see a giant boulder rolling towards them.

"It's going to squash us," screamed Frank, running as fast as his little legs could carry him.

The boulder started to speed up.

"Quick," said Emily. "Jump!"

The boulder was right behind them. They threw themselves around the corner and bumped into two figures who were running the other way.

The boulder smashed into the wall, but the children didn't even notice. They were staring in amazement at the figures in front of them.

They were two huge insects!
