

“Why are we following him?” Ali asked.

“He might lead us to a clue about Mr Hunt and the Langham team,” Jim replied.

The boy took a left and began to walk along a path by the old paint factory.

“Where’s he going?” asked Ali.

“Don’t know,” replied Jim, “but we mustn’t lose him.”

The boy suddenly turned down a narrow passage. Jim and Ali ran to keep up with him. But as soon as they reached the entrance to the passage they both stopped with shock.

The boy was nowhere to be seen.

He'd vanished.