

“Where are they going?” cried Hannah.
“I wanted to get out and swim with them.”

“You’re not going swimming out there,”
said Dad. “Look!”

He pointed at several large shark fins that were cutting across the water.
They were heading right for the boat.

