

“So instead,” said Sally, “a special group of people are at home with the Altons.”

The camera moved round and showed Kate in her room.

“This week,” said Kate to the camera, “I thought my Mum could see what it’s like to live with my guests for a change!”

Debbie Alton was watching the TV in her bedroom. What was Kate talking about?

“That’s right,” grinned Kate. “My Mum is going to see what it’s like to live with five teenage girls!”

The camera panned round and showed Jaz and three of Kate’s other mates from school – Keira, Jen and Clare.

Kate turned on her stereo and loud music blasted out. The girls started laughing and dancing.

Debbie Alton covered her ears and looked at the TV screen in shock.

“Nooooooooo!” she shouted.
