

Laura ran over to the barn doors.

“The eggs, there are more inside the barn - we have to help the hens. OK, on the count of three, Josh you open up the doors,” Laura ordered.

“No way, I don’t want to get eaten,” he said.

Ruth pushed Josh to one side, “I’ll do it. OK, on three... one... two...THREE!”

Laura opened the barn doors and the hens burst out.

“OK, that’s all of them - quick, shut the doors!” Josh screamed.

He could see a whole group of tiny creatures eating all the hen food.

The creatures looked up and started running towards the open doors.

“QUICKLY!” Josh screamed again.
