

Chapter 1 - Detention

Weird things had been happening at Lee's school since the start of term. First, mirrors had appeared everywhere. When Lee looked into them, he got the feeling that someone was looking back.

Then there was that strange sound he kept hearing in the classroom. It sounded like a camera turning to watch you.

When Lee heard it one day after morning break, he said to the others, "See! That thing in the corner. It's a camera, I'm sure of it."

Lee flicked a ball of paper across the room with his ruler. The black box moved, like a head turning to watch.

"Stop messing about, Lee," Mr Baxter said. He was writing on the board. He didn't need a camera. He had eyes in the back of his head.
