

“The weather forecast said there would be mist later in the afternoon,” warned Dad.

“We’ll be back by then,” promised Pete.

Their parents looked at each other.

Mum nodded. "I think we can trust them," she said. "We can drive into town while they're climbing."

"Have you thought about what to take with you?" asked Dad.

"We've made a list," said Mark.

