

Zak shrugged. "Whatever."

A big smile lit up Anna's face. "Hey, Zak," she said. "Do you know what time it is?"

Zak looked at his watch. "It's half past five," he said.

Anna shook her head. "No, it's time we went on the Ghost Train!"

Zak grinned at her. "You're right," he said. "And let's hope this Ghost Train is really scary!"

CHAPTER 2

Out of This World

Anna and Zak got on the Ghost Train.

It rumbled off into a dark tunnel. They were excited. But they were in for a big let down.

"Huh, this isn't scary at all," said Zak.

"All the skeletons are made of plastic."

